

Curl Up With a Great Book

Whether you love books, read them occasionally, or browse other mediums, don't pass up the unique gift of curling up with a great read tomorrow on National Book Lover's Day. Hammacher Schlemmer offers many products that make reading more enjoyable.

Many people enjoy a good read before bed, but typical lights can disturb a sleeping partner. This reader's bed lamp is dual-headed and mounts above the headboard to throw light at a specific spot, without disturbing a partner's slumber. The two lights have an adjustable lamp shade that zooms the size of the beam in and out. This light is also one that people from all ages can enjoy to reduce the strain of reading in a dark room.

For someone just looking to get some extra zoom on the tiny words they have to read all day, the Widescreen HD Digital Magnifier is a unique gift that provides up to 32X magnification on a 4½" W x 2½" LCD screen. It can be customized to one of 15 color combinations, with five brightness levels for enhanced viewing of printed pages or something as small as a stamp. With a dual lens that lets you read type up close or from across a room, this handy tool will help your tired eyes get the most out of every word.

With the increase in electronic mediums like e-readers, tablets, and smartphones, most of us read more on screen than we do the printed word. This eye strain can lead to bigger problems, so "look" no further than the Screen Reader's Eye Strain Preventing Glasses. This unique gift filters out blue light emitted by computer, tablet, and smartphone screens to assist in protecting the eyes from discomfort and fatigue. Blue light rays can lead to macular degeneration and cataracts, so do everything you can to fight the risk.

So no matter how, where, or what you read, make sure you set aside some time tomorrow and every day to enjoy the unique gifts a book provides, keeping us informed, entertained, and engaged. And if you're lacking in reading material, we can help.
